

Chemistry 481: Chemistry Seminar (2.0 Credits)
Fall Semester 2017

Instructor:
Office:

Dr. DUFFY
WDRB 244

Telephone:

478-770 (office) cell: 907-978-7685

Email:

kduffy@uaf.edu

Class Times:

Th 4:00-5:00 PM

Prerequisites:

Prerequisites:

Required Text book: Available electronically from UAF Library.

Prerequisites:

Prerequisites:
Course Desc

Prerequisites:
This is the first in a two

Prerequisites:
This is the first in a two

Course Goals:

Develop an overall understanding of the principles of oral communication in science

1. Demonstrate an ability to listen to a scientific presentation and

2. Demonstrate an ability to communicate the results of a research

3. Demonstrate an ability to present the results of a research

2. Actively participate in a discussion of the text.

Instructional Methods:

Disruptive or abusive students will be removed from the learning environment.

Grading and Evaluation of Performance:

It is expected that students will be graded on a pass/fail basis.

1. Passing grade on written critiques. (Defined as a pass in a grade of 75% or higher)

2. Satisfactory performance on all assignments.

3. Satisfactory performance on all assignments.

4. Satisfactory performance on all assignments.

4. Satisfactory performance on all assignments.

5. Satisfactory performance on all assignments.

Speaking Center at UAF:

In preparing your oral presentations for this class, you will benefit from the services of the Speaking Center. The Speaking Center is located in the Building, Room 100. The Speaking Center is open to all students. The Speaking Center provides a variety of services

Disabilities Services:

Disab

The Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities

The O

to students with disabilities. You will need to provide

Disability support location

Services:

veteran Support

The Veterans Service Officer at the M

Walter Gray is th

Amending this Syllabus:

Amendments and changes to the syllabus are not to be made in any circumstances, unless they are necessary and in the best interests of the students. Changes to the syllabus without a written agreement from the students are not permitted. The instructor must initiate any changes. The grading and evaluation scheme can be made before the add/drop date.

UAF POLICIES.

HONOR CODE