

REVISED SYLLABUS received 2-11-2013: #89-UNC / #37-GNC

Participants will need a laptop computer with wireless capability and a LiveText account. (Student membership is $99.) No course texts will be required, as the majority of resources will be found online.

The UAF Office of Disability Services implements the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and insures that UAF students have equal access to the campus and course materials. Your instructor will work with the Office of Disability Services (208 WHIT, 907-474-5655) to provide reasonable accommodation to students with disabilities.

UAF has a Disability Services office that operates in conjunction with the College of Rural and Community Development (CRCDC) campuses and UAF Center for Distance Education

Attendance is an essential requirement of this course and is the responsibility of the student. Class begins promptly and students are expected to be present at the beginning and at the end of each class session to receive full credit for attendance. Students are responsible for all class work and assignments. Inform the instructor if you have to be absent.

High ethical Standards are essential for maintaining credibility. Every course at UAF seeks to maintain these standards, starting with an emphasis on producing original and factual work. Students who engage in scholastic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary penalties, including the possibility of failure in the course and expulsion from the University. Scholastic dishonesty includes but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism collusion and submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts. Since scholastic dishonesty harms the individual, all students and the integrity of the University, policies on scholastic dishonesty will be strictly enforced (Board of Regents Rules and Regulations).

The readings for this course are meant to be as current as possible. Therefore instead of a text book we will utilize research based Journal articles. This allows us to review and analyze some of the most current research regarding our work. These articles are available through the UAF Rasmuson Library or you may email me for the pdf versions of the readings.

Required Readings:
