The following motion was passed at Faculty Senate meeting #229 on February 5, 201	The following motion was	passed at Faculty	/ Senate meeting #	229 on February	y 5, 2018
---	--------------------------	-------------------	--------------------	-----------------	-----------

Motion: The UAF Faculty Senate recommends the UA Faculty Alliance consider the following Effective: Fall 2018 Rationale: The language in Board of Regents Regulation regarding the disciplinary as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name 'arts' rather than 'fine arts' to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as 'fine arts'.  Humanities  This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not		a. Arto

as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not		Currently, the description of arts courses is confusingly smushed in with the description of humanities courses. The new description would allow 'skills'.
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not	1 6 1,
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not	LA
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not	1
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not	.
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not	1
as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not	  appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not
appreciation and fine arts history classes are allowed. Note that we choose the name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  • Humanities  • This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not	; =
name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  Humanities This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not		as long as there was some 'academic discipline' content. Currently only fine arts disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine arts".  Humanities  This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not		name "arts" rather than "fine arts" to recognize that there are various arts Humanities     This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not		disciplines, such as creative writing, that are not traditionally recognized as "fine
This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not <ul> <li>This change clearly separates arts from humanities. Note that specific fields not</li> </ul>
	( )
		Ai*-

	A Practical Control of the Control o
	-	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·

	= Deletic d = Addi
Cate				cation Re	•			on 1	Requiremer	its foi	r B	Baccalaureat
1.		Comm	unication	Skills
						•	nt [[are tho		which emph			•

Α.

of English through ir	n language s nstruction ac	kills in orally o	communicatir / practice]] p	ng ideas İn an rovide guideo	ze the acquisit organized fast i practice in u	nion I sing

divorce and abancine audianose

2. Written Communication Skills

Courses that fulfill this requirement [[are those which emphasize the acquisition of English language skills in organizing and communicating.]] provide guided practice in using writing as a tool for communicating ideas and responding to diverse and changing audiences.

3. [[Quantitative Skills]] Mathematics and practice of the humanities, integrating basic knowledge and disciplinary methodologies._

[[6]]7. Social Sciences

