- a. Anna briefed the group on an issue addressed in collaboration with the GAAC Chair and Nicole Misarti, an INE Research Faculty. Research Faculty, who belongs to research institutes such as INE, have approached academic departments but received the response that the Research Faculty are not been allowed to serve as the main graduate student chair despite the Research Faculty funding the entire graduate degree via the awards where the Research Faculty are PI's. In other departments the Research Faculty are first required to co-chair the first graduate student, while the same rule does not apply to tenure-track faculty. RAC and GAAC will continue to assess the issue and gather more information.

- a. Rosemary presented a ppt draft targeting new faculty hires via a ~2h long research orientation, which is aimed to start in spring. RAC members provided feedback to the content to date. RAC noted that Oregon State has lots of resources available online in regards to new faculty's introduction to research activities that can inspire our crafting: <http://research.oregonstate.edu/new-faculty-orientation>. RAC suggested that in addition to this 2-h long orientation, it would be useful to have short videos available online that goes more into detail. The videos can be made by the different officjail
