
The Facilities Naming Guidelines were developed in response to the increasing number of naming requests that are being made at UAF. In order to provide a fair and consistent process for naming of permanent facilities and other campus features, both interior and exterior, a clear process is required. The guidelines insure that proper review and consultation occur prior to any naming decisions being made.

All naming requests shall be brought initially to the UAF Development Office. Since naming requests for facilities are only one of many ways to recognize individuals and/or identification.

Primary facility: Any large or prominent facility that supports the institutional mission, including academic and research buildings and/or community service-focused buildings and prominent interior spaces such as auditoriums, lobby areas, and libraries.

Secondary facility: Any facility that does not fit the definition of primary facility. Such facilities would include classrooms, studios, laboratories, and other work spaces. Secondary facilities are used primarily to support institutional functions such as teaching, research and institutional service.

Primary exterior facility: Any significant campus feature, such as parks, open spaces, recreation areas, plazas, roads, and major walkways and trails. Primary exterior facilities do not need to be connected or in close proximity to, primary or secondary openaci o-
